12. Free cancellation up to 24 hours before activity starts Live tour guide (Spanish, English, French, German) Pick-up service 15. Shop locally at one of the island's markets Do some holiday shopping at one of the local markets Almost every town on the island has its own market day and it's a nice way to shop locally for souvenirs to bring back home. Sotavento Lagoon, an iconic place to see in Fuerteventura The incredible lagoon at Playa Sotavento In every guide you read about the island you'll find a recommendation for Sotavento lagoon and they are right to point you in this direction, as this is one of the top natural attractions in Fuerteventura and one of the island's most iconic symbols. Although much of the SS American Star has been claimed by the sea since its demise in 1994, the bow still soars defiantly from the shallow waters. See a full list of the best tours in Fuerteventura Oasis Park - Best place to visit in Fuerteventura with kids The entire park is like a green oasis in Fuerteventura Oasis Park is the only animal park in Fuerteventura, but it's probably one of the most amazing in the Canaries. Don't miss the unique Botanical Garden and take a break at the cosy restaurant inside the Park. When it gets windy feel temperatures might be somewhat lower. The Jandia Peninsula has some of the most amazing beaches in the Canary Islands and Sotavento Beach is definitely one of them. Scale this 278m volcano and enjoy unique, fascinating views. 6. Weather during Summer:In general, the summers are dry, sunny - and windy. The Salt Museum in Las Salinas del Carmen An interesting place to see in Fuerteventura - Museo del Sal in Salinas del Carmen There's not many museums to visit in Fuerteventura, so the Salt Museum is good is you want to see something new, especially on a cloudy day when you don't feel like spending time on the beach. Meet sea lions (or swim with them if you feel up to it!), try out game fishing or rent different watercraft. The hike is pleasant and not very strenuous, and at the top you can find a café and more information. There is something unnerving yet fascinating about standing close to the wreck of a beached ocean liner. Go on a day trip from Fuerteventura to Lanzarote The landscape inside Timanfaya National Park kind of looks like you're on Mars If you want a change of scenery, why not take the ferry over to Lanzarote? 9. 3. Puertito de los Molinos - One of the most special places to see in Fuerteventura View of Puertito de los Molinos from the caves Yet another village on the west coast, Puertito de los Molinos is the village with just a few houses, which are only inhabited during the summer months, mostly by tourists who come here to escape the crowded resorts. Corralejo Natural Park Our favourite view in Fuerteventura - you absolutely need to go to this beach when visiting Fuerteventura for the first time Corralejo Natural Park is probably Fuerteventura's no. Apply lots of sun lotion with high SPF, keep yourself hydrated, wear adequate shoes (we strongly advise against sandals or flip flops) and prepare yourself to be amazed by the view when you get to the very top of Fuerteventura. Fuerteventura is our favorite island in the Canaries for a beach holiday, since there's no other island in the archipelago that can match its beautiful beaches. Our list of the top things to do in Fuerteventura includes: Uniquely beautiful beaches like Corralejo Grandes Playas, Sotavento or Cofete Suggestions for things to do in Fuerteventura for families with kids Island hopping ideas The best tours and activities in Fuerteventura Ideas for island drives What to see on the west coast of Fuerteventura What To Do in Fuerteventura - Best places to see Although not as diverse as Tenerife or Gran Canaria in terms of activities and landscape, Fuerteventura stands out as the best beach destination in the Canary Islands, if what you're looking for is white sand, crystal waters and great weather to enjoy them all year round. Check our list of markets in Fuerteventura to see when the next one is and go to the atmosphere and to find some bargains. From Fuerteventura you can take the ferry from Corralejo to Playa Blanca, a chilled resort in the south of Lanzarote, where you can explore the marina, try one of the local bars and restaurants or spend time at the beach (we like Playa Flamingo the most). Experience Fuerteventura from the water on a Catamaran tour. The prevailing N/NE wind is keeping us cool and is most appreciated by water sporters like windsurfers, surfers and kites. Oasis Park is probably one of the best places to visit in Fuerteventura if you're on holiday with the family, as the kids will have a great time watching all the different animals (they also have a special attraction called Kid's Farm and Park). This is the perfect place for surfers and kite surfers and it's also the beach where the Windsurfing Championship takes place every year. It's important that you go there at a certain time if you want to be able to visit the caves in Puertito de los Molinos, and although this experience might not be for everyone, it's one of the most unique places that you can visit in Fuerteventura. A visit to Betancuria will show you another side of Fuerteventura, as this place is full of history and old buildings that will reveal a lot about the island's past. Bring something to eat and drink if you plan on spending the day, as this place is far away from the city and there's no shop in sight. Discover the hidden gems of the island, such as coves, volcanoes and other exciting places. Explore the Corralejo dunes on a buggy tour Looking for some adventure? The island itself has much more to offer, from barren desert scenery and fascinating volcanoes to colourful and characterful towns and pleasant harbour promenades. BOOK ONLINEOasis Park Fuerteventura Entrance Tickets - € 35 per person The ticket includes: Bus transfers Free access to 4 entertaining and educational live animal shows (reptiles, sea lions, birds of prey and parrots) Free access to the Botanical Garden 7. Ideally located right outside Caleta de Fuste, the club offers a beautiful view of the ocean. Isla de Lobos means Wolves Island, named for the many sea wolves considered "the original conquerors" of the island. Cofete - The most amazing beach in Fuerteventura Cofete beach It's not easy to get to Cofete, as the road is unpaved and bumpy, but this means that this beach still remains unspoiled and untouched by mass tourism. If you plan on exploring the caves in Ajuy remember to bring closed shoes - preferably sneakers or trekking shoes, as you'll have to climb and walk on rocky soil. The two islands are so close to one another that it would be a shame not to see how you like the other, even for just a day. In the sleepy ex-capital of La Oliva you will find ornate Canarian carpentry and fine mansions, such as the Casa de los Coroneles where the soldiers of the island used to live. Try your hand at kitesurfing on the sandy beach of Sotavento. Afterward, you can have lunch at Los Caracolitos, a good restaurant with a beautiful view of a quiet beach. Wondering what to see in Fuerteventura? This lovely little cathedral is located in Fuerteventura's former capital of Betancuria. Please check the current local weather conditions and 4-day weather forecast below. From here you will head to Ajuy and then to Costa Calma. The sunbathers do cherish those winds too, although some might be fooled by their cooling effect and turn up for dinner in their hotel, tomato-red. Another option would be to take a tour which will take you to see Lanzarote's volcanic park - Timanfaya National Park, followed by a tour of La Geria, Lanzarote's wine region (with wine tasting included). Hike to Pico de la Zarza - Highest peak on the island For people looking for an active holiday, with a lot of hiking and trekking adventures, Fuerteventura might not seem like an interesting destination at first. Most shops are closed on Sunday. The weather during winter still allows you to go home with a tan. Drive to Betancuria You'll be fascinated by Betancuria's charm and old architecture Betancuria is at the top of suggestion's list for things to see in Fuerteventura if you're interested in finding out more about the island's history and culture. Take the chance to visit the pretty little church, Parroquiade Nuestra Señora de Candelaria, whose square bell town is visible from miles away. On days when the tide allows it, you can cross the ocean and explore the caves that are situated in the vicinity of the beach. Betancuria used to be Fuerteventura's capital before Puerto del Rosario and you'll find here a charming town, with white buildings and pretty flowers, ready to receive its daily visitors. Take your time, enjoy the views and be careful if spending time at the beach, since the beach in Ajuy is considered dangerous for swimming. At the Fuerteventura Golf Club, the sun shines almost all year around. info@visitfuerteventura.es Read more Section in Fuerteventura As well as the blue skies and pleasant temperatures, Fuerteventura has rolling waves and a rocking nightlife. Take a look at our list of suggestions. 5. The winding road to Betancuria may be intimidating for some drivers, but it offers amazing views, very different from the coastal roads. Stars by Night offers stargazing workshops and astronomy on the volcanic island of Fuerteventura. BOOK ONLINECorralejo: Round-Trip Ferry to Isla de Lobos Tickets Includes round trip ferry tickets 4. Explore the caves in Ajuy The path that takes to the big caves in Ajuy Ajuy is always on our list of recommended places to visit in Fuerteventura, as here you'll be able to eat fresh fish, explore some amazing caves and then finish the day watching one of the best sunsets in Fuerteventura. Weather forecast for Fuerteventura - 4 day view.The weather on Fuerteventura has no high peaks and deep slopes as you might have at home. You can swim in the beautiful coves and lagoons or you can take a few hours to make the trip around the island, which takes around 4 hours. Since the beginning of 2019, you need a permit to be able to visit Los Lobos Island, but it is free and easy to obtain online. Tourist information: Fuerteventura Tourist BoardAlmirante Lallermmand 1. They include cloud cover, temperature, wind direction, windspeed and probability of rainfall.Enjoy your holiday in Fuerteventura! With golden sand, cool water, and a gentle sea breeze, the second largest of the Canary Islands attracts huge numbers of sun-worshippers and water sports enthusiasts. Dating back to the XV century, this Norman Gothic edifice was ruined in 1593. El Cotillo is much more quiet and relaxed compared to other resorts and here you'll find the beautiful Playa Concha and the Cotillo lagoons - both are great places for kids during the times when the tide is low and you can enjoy the lagoons and their turquoise waters. The city has updated its image in the past years by placing around 100 sculptures throughout the city, so you can have a fun day discovering as many as possible. Nowadays, Isla de Lobos is a very popular tourist attraction, especially for nature lovers. 14. Meet sea lions, reptiles, strange birds, parrots, lemurs and over 250 different species. Enjoy the underwater world without even getting wet. The hike takes around 2 hours and you should start early in the morning because there is no shade along the way and by noon the sun is already too strong. Go on a buggy tour in Fuerteventura! Another way to explore the dunes is on a buggy tour, which starts in Corralejo, then goes towards the Natural Park, where you will be able to explore the dunes. 1. Pico de la Zarza is the island's highest peak, at an altitude of 807 m, offering spectacular views over Playa de Cofete. Go island-hopping - Day trip from Fuerteventura to Lobos Island Take a quick ferry and visit Los Lobos - one of the best day trips from Fuerteventura You can book a catamaran trip to Lobos Island, where you can enjoy a day in paradise, on an island that is still uninhabited. Located right in the center of Corralejo, Homegrown Surfschool was founded in 1995 and offers instruction by professional surf teachers. 13. Playa de la Barca - part of Sotavento Beach - is one of the images you see on most postcards of Fuerteventura, with a huge lagoon that gets filled up with ocean water when the tide is high. On the contrary, the weather on Fuerteventura is showing temperatures in the shade from 15°C till 30°C. Flag beach is one of the most popular spots and you'll see here lots of surfers and kite surfers here, as this is a great place for water sports. 2. It's got beautiful views (don't miss the view from the Bird's of Prey show), a botanical garden which is actually the largest cactus garden in the Canary Islands and many animal shows that will keep you busy for an entire day. Book online the Fuerteventura Panoramic Tour Free cancellation up to 24 hours before activity starts This tour will take you to see the Sacred Mountain in Tindaya, the Morro Velosa Viewpoint, then on a trek around the canyon of La Presa de la Peñita. 11. Don't miss the biggest green area of the island together with the stunning landscapes enriched with lakes and palm trees! From the Mirador Morro Velosa you get a great view of the magnificent mountain tops and almost the entire island, a perfect place for a day trip. Visit El Cotillo and see the amazing lagoons El Cotillo Lagoons, one of our favorite places to see in Fuerteventura El Cotillo is a small village on the northwest coast of the island and it's one of the best places in Fuerteventura to spend a relaxing and chilled day, away from the bigger resort towns, factor 30) at all times!! Weather during Winter:The last years have given us some thunderstorms and heavy rain, but general weather conditions still are fine to enjoy beaches and surfing. Sun cream (min. Artisanía Lajares is indeed a must for all women in search for high quality handicrafts like lace or embroidery. Puerto del Rosario - Visit the capital of Fuerteventura The beach in Puerto del Rosario, Fuerteventura's capital and largest town Puerto del Rosario is not the prettiest town on the island, but it's still a nice place to spend a couple of hours walking by the coast and discovering the sculpture park and the various murals around the city. Lajares is a small village located just ten minutes drive from Corralejo and it is the most attractive destination for tourists who love local shopping. Here, the population ekes out an existence producing world renowned cheese and ruby red tomatoes. The viewing platform on the crator rim offers panoramic views of the volcanic landscape, and is well worth the climb. Book online: Lanzarote volcano and wine region tour (it includes the ferry crossing, the volcano tour and tour of La Geria - the wine region + wine tasting). Located 2 km from Fuerteventura, this island is a nature reserve. Swimming at Cofete beach is dangerous and it's not advisable to do so, but you can walk for miles and miles, while enjoying the beautiful view of the mountains and the ocean. A shallow, tidal lagoon makes this a perfect location for kitesurfers of all levels, with courses available for beginners. With its long coast (2.5 by 10.5 kilometres), this island has two different landscapes to offer to its excited visitors: in the north you can admire the biggest dune of the Canary Islands, whereas in the south you can enjoy a stunning volcanic landscape. Away from the shoreline, desolate roads lined with squat, round windmills link tiny villages of sugar cube cottages. From here the tours goes towards the volcanic area and Tamaragua, for a true off-road experience. BOOK ONLINEFuerteventura 3-Hour Dune Buggy Tour Pick-up and drop off at selected hotels Use of self-drive buggy & gasoline Even if you chose to do the buggy tour, we still recommend to spend a day on your own in the natural park, to walk through the dunes, enjoy the amazing beaches, the ocean and the view towards the island Los Lobos. Out of all the Canary Islands, Fuerteventura is the one with the most amazing beaches, endless sand dunes and a relaxing vibe that will make you want to come back time and time again. If you want to enjoy the stunning desert of Fuerteventura, Corralejo Natural Park is the best place to go. Go up to Faro de la Entallada Faro de la Entallada Another scary and winding road in Fuerteventura is the one that will take you up to Entallada Lighthouse, where you can gaze at the horizon trying to spot the African continent, as this is the closest point to Africa all the Canary Islands.
