For more information on voter registration and voting locations, contact your local county elections official. This is a good place to go to check your status if you aren't sure what state you might be registered in, or if you want to learn more about election laws across the country.Nonprofit Organization WebsitesThere are some nonprofit organizations that focus on getting out the vote, meaning they dedicate resources to informing the general public about elections. Your state should have an elections website (often accessible through the Secretary of State's website) that provides resources for voters, including a registration lookup. If you are 16 or 17 years old, you can use this online registration application to pre-register to vote. Your information will be provided to the California Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) to retrieve a copy of your DMV signature. These voters may then show up to the polls on election day and find that they aren't actually able to vote. Hover over each state in the map for more details. That's because some states engage in what's known as voter purging, a practice that sees voters with valid registrations purged or removed from voter lists. Register to Vote Now For California residents who want to be voters Pre-Register to Vote For California residents age 16 and 17 who want to be future voters Check Your Registration Status For California voters who want to confirm their address and other details In the wake of recent news stories about voter purging and an increased focus on civic participation, it makes sense to want to search your name in voter lists online to ensure you're able to vote. However, you will need to take additional steps to complete your voter registration.
